May is one of the most positive influences I've ever seen on a work environment. She is energetic and upbeat and a social butterfly, and always knows how to put a positive spin on a situation. In addition to being a very talented Events manager she is a fantastic host/emcee as well and has a knack for crowds. I would highly recommend her for any role and hope to work with her again in the future.

Jamal Al Mawed

One of the best MC's I have seen. May presents the event professionally and adapts very well with the theme. A very pleasant character who creates vibes and positive feelings wherever she is. May's high level command of both languages English and Arabic is an advantage. She digs deep in research and obtains extensive knowledge about the subject before going on stage. Her interaction with the audience is superb. May has handled several of our events including some in the presence of the royals and vvip international and local dignitaries. Working with her prior to, during and after the events has always been professional and easy.
